Reported for: Shill bidding

Status:	Reported
Report received:	2026-08-24
Report generated:	2026-10-10 16:37 UTC

This is a public conduct record. Entries identify a marketplace handle and its platform only. They contain NO personally identifying information: no legal name, no address, no contact details, and nothing about who filed a report. Every entry is a report backed by what was checked, not a verdict, and any entry is corrected or removed if it does not hold up. A handle can dispute its entry at any time.

Findings and evidence

7 observations across 1 dated section, with 5 evidence images on file. Sources that did not corroborate the report are shown too, and labelled as such.

CORROBORATING SOURCE

TikTok live VODs and direct-message evidence on file

This seller was reported for shill bidding on TikTok live auctions. The report describes a recurring top bidder, said to be a family member of the account owner, placing bids that drove up prices on the lots the seller was selling, and states that after the conduct was raised publicly the seller side offered money to have the coverage taken down. Shown here as reported. This is a report, not a verdict.

CORROBORATING SOURCE

Follow-up live check, 2026-08-24

We checked this seller live on TikTok again on 2026-08-24, after this was first reported, and observed the same top bidder back in the number-two position on the live bidder board, consistent with what was reported.

CORROBORATING SOURCE

Recorded from the seller public TikTok live, 2026-08-24

On the seller public TikTok live on 2026-08-24, the seller was repeatedly recorded quoting graded PSA 10 dollar values for cards that were being sold raw and ungraded at one-dollar starting bids. Recorded phrasing included "two grand in a PSA 10, $2,000 in a PSA 10" and "thousands in a PSA 10," spoken over cards that had not been graded. A PSA 10 price applies only to a card independently graded gem mint; an ungraded card is not that card. Recorded and shown here so viewers can judge it - a report, not a verdict.

CORROBORATING SOURCE

Recorded from the seller public TikTok live, 2026-08-24

On the same 2026-08-24 live, the seller was recorded using investment-return language to drive bids, including "this will be your biggest investment you have ever made" and "3000 percent, it is time to get your investment." Recorded as observed - a report, not a verdict.

CORROBORATING SOURCE

Recorded from the seller public TikTok live, 2026-08-24

On the same 2026-08-24 live, the seller was recorded describing current-set and common cards as "grails," for example a "Riolu grail from the brand new mega evolutions ETB" (a current-set pull), with repeated scarcity pressure such as "move on it" and "last copy." Recorded as observed - a report, not a verdict.

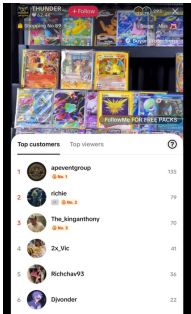

CORROBORATING SOURCE

Recorded from the seller public TikTok live, 2026-08-24

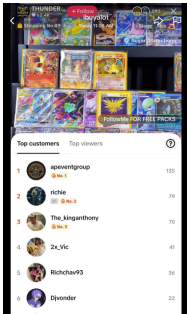

On the same 2026-08-24 live, the seller offered a raw, ungraded E-reader era Pichu and described it in his own words as "a little LP, a little white on the top," and "the cleanest LP I have ever seen," while anchoring the price to a $2,999 PSA 9 copy he owns. The card was sold raw in a soft sleeve and marked LP on the holder. A card the seller himself describes as Lightly Played with whitening does not grade PSA 10. Recorded as observed - a report, not a verdict.
